DIARY DATE - VILLAGE FETE SUNDAY 7 JUNE

VILLAGE PEOPLE Please let us have your news and tributes by 17 March for our April magazine

Big Birthday Congratulations x 2 to Phil Rex and his twin sister Sophie Lawrence, who will be celebrating their 80th birthday in 'vintage' style on 21 March.

Ann Honor A Memorial Service to celebrate the Life of Ann took place in Wateringbury Church on 25 February. Ann, with her husband Roy, lived in Red Hill, Wateringbury for many years with their sons Simon and Andrew. She was a gifted teacher and contributed much to village life. She had a great sense of fun which she retained to the end. Recently failing health necessitated Roy and Ann move to the Woking area to be closer to family. A cremation service took place in Woking and Ann's ashes interred in the Honor Family plot in Maidstone. The Honor Family were corn and seed merchants and traded from Honor's store in Earl Street.

Goodbye and Hello Best Wishes to Viv and Nell Rubin who have made a down-sizing move to West Malling. They moved into Southview on the Tonbridge Road in 1975 when their children Peter and Emily were young and were very supportive of village life. However we hope to see lots of them as their daughter Emily, husband Thomas Best-Shaw and their sons Joshua and William are moving into Southview.

Congratulations to Wateringbury Players on their Best Ever Pantomime Dorothy And The Yellow Brick Road based on The Wizard of Oz. The script, written by the production's director Amy Westgate and her mum Brenda Johnson, was witty, with lots of jokes, both local and well presented 'old chestnuts'. The choice of music, with many from the well-loved musical, added to the enjoyment of the sell-out audiences at all three performances. The panto however was not Amy and husband Joe's main production - in November their son Noah was born and he came along to the panto too.

A TEAM OF LEADERS NEEDED

Do you like working with children? Do you embrace a new challenge? ..Are you adventurous? Do you derive satisfaction through seeing children being fulfilled and enjoying themselves? Work well as part of a team?

If you have answered yes to any of the above, then this role could be for you! 1st Wateringbury Brownies need new leaders or a group of leaders that could lead the unit. We meet on a Thursday evening from 6.15pm - 7.45pm during school term times. This role would start now with full training and support being given from Girl Guiding. If you would like more information then please contact: Lesley Barker on lesle.barke@o2.co.uk or call 07856 291121 Or Tina Tuton on tinatuton@live.co.uk or call 07790 428663

HISTORY SOCIETY

Geoff Hutchinson is our speaker in March who is coming along to speak about the life and verse of 'Rudyard Kipling', a topical subject with the many commemorations taking place regarding WWI.

Our first talk in 2015 was by Peter Ewart entitled 'Smuggling in Kent'. Smuggling in Kent thrived from the late 16th century until the early 19th century because of very high excise duty that was placed on imported goods such as alcohol, tobacco, lace and tea. The government quickly increased the legal penalty from 7 years imprisonment to death by hanging for those found guilty of this crime, but because of the huge profits involved this did little to stop it. Several large gangs eventually formed to control most of the trade, the most notorious of which was the "Hawkhurst Gang" who used most of the Kent coast to bring in contraband before transporting it to London. Peter related many blood curdling tales of torture and murder committed by them, illustrating his talk with slides showing the places in Kent where these crimes were committed. The public were largely unsympathetic to the taxes, and many helped the smugglers by hiding contraband until it could be safely moved, including some of the clergy who allowed church premises to be used. The land based customs officers were usually outnumbered and badly paid, and often in the pay of the smugglers, making them fairly ineffective. After the Napoleonic War had ended in the 19th century, the government formed an amphibious naval force to combat the smugglers. Equipped with fast ships, well trained and well-armed officers and men the smugglers were no match for them, and the problem was at last brought under control. This amphibious naval force was later named "The Coast Guard".

THE WATERINGBURY CLUB (Wateringbury Working Men's Club)

The club is situated behind Numbers 208 and 212-214 Tonbridge Road. The entrance is about 100 metres from the traffic lights on the right hand side through a wrought iron gate with a signboard over the gate. There is also a vehicle access off Red Hill between Numbers 5 and 7.

In 1886 a plot of land was bought by Mr. Apps at an auction in Maidstone containing a coach house and stables and this part of the site was then bought by the Trustees of the Working Men's Club and Institute. The members gave freely of their time to convert the buildings into a suitable Club House. The trustees at the time were William Blest of Broomdown, Richard Fremlin of Mays Lodge and George Cheeseman of Pizien Well. The Rev. E.C. Leslie, Vicar at Wateringbury was the Club Secretary.

For over 100 years the Club has been used by many Village organisations and the Church and it was the main centre for their social activities and some schools as far away as Paddock Wood used the Club for Domestic Science Lessons.

In October 1981 a serious fire completely destroyed the large hall and this gave the club an opportunity to upgrade the facilities and install new furniture and fittings to equal or surpass other local licensed premises. Also more ladies and families were allowed and encouraged to use the premises.

The Club celebrated its centenary on 3rd November, 1986.

Snooker, darts and pool still remain popular with matches against other local Pubs and Clubs. Sky and BT Sports Television give coverage of most major sporting events such as World Cup and European football and Test Match Cricket.

There are also frequent social evenings, Bingo and Karaoke as well as Professional Entertainment. It is also used by other organisations for Committee meetings and for the occasional private parties and celebrations, and even Wakes.

Primarily it is a friendly, pleasant well kept facility that makes a good addition to the social scene in Wateringbury. Membership is open to both ladies and gentlemen and includes entrance to other affiliated clubs.

If you are interested in becoming a member and require more information, this can be obtained from the Secretary on 01622 812167.

A fuller history of the Club has been published by the Local History Society in "About Wateringbury" obtainable from the Post Office or the Wateringbury Local History Society. S.T.

WHICH VILLAGE'S MEMORIAL – East Malling

War News, February 1915

4 th February	Germany starts unrestricted submarine warfare
7 th – 22 nd	Russia defeated by Germany at Second Battle of Massurian Lakes
19 th	Beginning of Gallipoli campaign with naval bombardment of outer forts of Dardenelles

As we saw last month, Wateringbury Parish Council met infrequently and its minutes make limited references to the war. Such is not the case of the school logs which are dominated by war issues. The school logs are a hand-written record, kept daily by the three (boys, girls and infants) schools in the village.

The schools were on the one site up Red Hill with about 240 pupils (100 boys, 80 girls and 60 infants) from a village population of 1,260 (1911 census). Numbers varied considerably in times of bad weather, such as the heavy snowfall on 24th February 1915, or illness (chicken pox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, whooping cough, flu, ringworm, etc.). School holidays were structured around hop picking. Some children started school as young as 3 years of age, allowing their mothers to work, and all finished by 14. Some tried to leave earlier by getting exemption certificates that they were doing war work. Exclusions for dirty hair or clothes were frequent. Getting to Maidstone Grammar was for the few.

The logs record a constant stream of war-related activities: collecting eggs for the wounded, clothes for Belgian refugees, collections for war charities, sending cards to troops, entertainments staged in aid of the wounded etc. A typical girls' school entry in February 1915 is as follows: "A parcel of mittens (made by the girls) also containing chocolate, matches, candles & soap, was sent to the West Kent Regiment at the front on the 13th. Each pair of mittens contained a letter from the maker. Answers from the recipients have been received in two cases.

"On 25th February the girls' school log records: "As some thousands of Kitchener's Army were to march through Wateringbury from Maidstone early this morning, all the departments with the staff marched down & lined the road along which the troops were to come. They remained until all had passed through. It was a practical lesson in patriotism & history." The infants log adds that there were about 3,000 soldiers on their way to Aldershot.

The Diocesan inspector's report of February 1915, recorded in the school logs and published in the parish magazine, reminds us of the strong religious element in the education then provided, and the emphasis on learning by rote. In otherwise glowing reports the only weakness noted was that the girls lacked "accuracy in the Catechism repetition" but they "knew the explanation better than the text". But later in 1915 a detailed secular work programme is laid out, covering the main academic subjects, as well as needlework, laundry and cooking classes for the girls. As well as Diocesan inspections, attendance officers and government inspectors came frequently. The vicar and other village notables, especially those helping war charities, visited often as well. ### WATERINGBURY CE PRIMARY SCHOOL

A strong and effective partnership between school and home with regular sharing of information is vital if children's learning is to flourish. With this in mind we have continued with our programme of Curriculum Focus events during February. Our Reading Curriculum afternoon and evening events proved very popular with more than 80 parents joining us for one of the two sessions. These were followed by a very well-attended e-Safety Curriculum evening to coincide with Safer Internet Day on 10 February. The open evening for parents focussed on managing risk within the online world and an overview of e-Safety in the curriculum.

Children from Red and Tangerine classes shared their obvious enjoyment of reading and learning with the rest of the school and their parents when they staged outstanding assemblies in February based on an in-depth look at the texts Kensuke's Kingdom and The Firework Maker's Daughter. Yellow and Blue classes will have similar opportunities to showcase their learning in front of the school and parents at the next assemblies in March.

The school will celebrate World Book Day with a fairy tale-themed dressing up day on 6 March and the children will demonstrate their wide-ranging musical talents at our annual Musical Evening on 31 March.

We were able to demonstrate the changes and improvements made over the last two years during an Ofsted inspection on 4 and 5 February. At the time of going to press, we were awaiting the publication of the inspectors' report. Term 4 will end on 1 April. ### EAST FARLEIGH FARMERS' MARKET

The next East Farleigh Farmers' Market will be held on Sunday 1st March, again at the new time of 10am to 1pm. Our Wine and Buffet party will take place on Wednesday 20th May, the venue has yet to be finalised, but the Committee is sure it will be our usual enjoyable evening. We will give full details at our next meeting, and collect names.

NETTLESTEAD AND WATERINGBURY PRE-SCHOOL & CLUBS

(Charity No. 1144343)

Well finally Spring is sprung, I think we may be doing some bird watching in the not too distant future as it looks like we have a nest building team in our outside play area. It is a couple of years since we watched our last eggs hatch and they may decide they have made a mistake when the children return after the half term break! It is lovely to see and hear the wildlife returning to our environs with the beautiful woodpecker and the lively rabbits. The children never fail to enjoy counting how many rabbits are on the field today?

If you wish to come along and join our fun then please

TESTON AND WATERINGBURY NURSERY GROUP

Well what are you doing this month. The answer to that is lot's! We have the popular Discovery bus coming to Teston on 9th March where all the children will be able to play and learn in such an engaging environment. Our mother's day experience is on Thursday 15th March, where we invite mums, grandma's, etc. to join their children for an afternoon of craft, and this year we will be making flower hedgehogs with googly eyes!

Recently during our show and tell time we have been talking about uniforms and what people wear as part of their jobs. To follow on from this we have arranged to revisit our friends at Maidstone fire station on 19th March. There our local fireman will take us on a tour of the fire station and if we're good we could climb into Dennis the fire engine and pretend we are all fireman Sam.

And finally we will end this term at Teston Church for an Easter story with Jim Brown on Tuesday 31st March. Thank you Jim for always taking the time to open up the church for our Nursery Group visits. It is always a wonderful experience that the children enjoy very much.

We are busy organising our Easter Fun day on Friday 10th April, 10.00am – 12.00 The Easter egg hunt on the field is always a popular event with the children. All are welcome at Teston Village Hall, Church Street. ME18 5AH.

A Christian View on Tax Avoidance

Lord Green of Hurstpierpoint is an ex- HSBC head who has recently stepped down from a leading financial services body. This is amid claims that he was in charge of the HSBC when it enabled tax avoidance. During my articles in the Rostrum I am very unlikely to become involved in politics, particularly party politics. But this is a different issue and is a matter of Ethics which should engage us all. When this issue emerged a few weeks ago it was natural that fingers should point at Lord Green, who also happens to be an Anglican Priest and has been since 1988! He has written books on the ethics of business, he was appointed as a trade minister in the government and has been appointed by the Church of England to chair a report on leadership training for senior clergy which has proved unpopular with some church members. This clearly causes the church a degree of embarrassment but it's opposition to tax evasion, or aggressive tax management strategies, remains firm. And so it should!

As a priest in the Church of England I firmly believe that our faith, and any normal respect for humanity, requires us to work with and for the poorest in our society, the less able and those who have needs. It grieves me to think that thousands of British bank customers have deposited billions of pounds in Swiss bank accounts in order to avoid tax. This is an avoidance of our responsibility towards the "Common Good".

The Christian perspective is quite simple, everything we have is fundamentally God given. Every Sunday, upon receipt of our offertory collection in church, I use the following prayer: "All things come from thee and of thine own do we give thee". Or to put it another way, God created everything and so everything is fundamentally God's. So, however much of the world's resources we appropriate for ourselves, or however much we label as "ours", God's ownership is primary. At best our ownership is simply temporary stewardship. Therefore, all that we have in our private Swiss bank accounts needs to be justified because all that we do have we actually have on loan. The big question is what we do with this money. Or, let's put it another way, for whom is this money good news?

The Revd Jim Brown

We have a really pleasant morning so do come along, it would be good to see you. We meet on alternate Wednesdays in the church for tea, coffee homemade cake and fellowship. Many who go along have rekindled their interest in all sorts of crafts (we do knitting, sewing, crochet, pergamano, etc). Some knit or sew and chat - others just go along for a natter. In the Autumn we knitted hats which were donated to Maidstone Christian Care to give to the homeless. The tiny knitted blankets and tiny teddies which we made were donated to Pembury Hospital for the Special Care Unit. Some will be used to wrap around stillborn babies. In January Jean from Hadlow came along and collected small teddies and brightly coloured blankets made from knitted squares. These she was taking personally to a small charity Mayenjane she supports in Swaziland for the orphan children there to enjoy. Everyone is most welcome. Pauline and Gillian
